They come in distinctive forms and there are so many types of materials from which the hooks are being made of diverse lengths, and so forth. In any case, this is a really essential and the basic thing when you are going to crochet. In weaving you have the greater part of the thread on the needle, all in the same column. They are all open, which means if one drops off it can tumble down the entire thread. In crochet you just have circles on the hook fitting in one line so all you need to concentrate on the circles that are on that hook. If it tumbles off, simply scam it as there is no major problem to be dealt with. You re just moving one line at once, and everything is finished once you complete that line.
